Information Mosaic Wins Banking Technology Readers' Choice Award for Best Corporate Actions

London/New York, November 10, 2009, Information Mosaic, the trusted global provider of advanced custody, asset and wealth management solutions to the investor services industry, today announced that its corporate actions solution, cama[™], has won the Banking Technology Readers' Choice Award for Best Corporate Actions Automation Product or Service.

Banking Technology canvassed its 10,000+ readers to vote for what they considered to be the best systems available in Europe across 10 different categories. The winners of the 10th Annual Banking Technology and Readers' Choice Awards were announced at a gala dinner at the Grosvenor House Hotel in London's Park Lane on Thursday 5th November, with some 400 guests taking part in an evening of celebration.

Information Mosaic's cama[™] is an innovative global corporate actions automation solution that not only streamlines operations flows but intelligently aids decision making when intervention is necessary. It manages the complete corporate action lifecycle from announcement capture through to eligible balance calculations, instruction management, entitlement calculations and final distribution and payments.

John Byrne, Information Mosaic's Chief Executive Officer and President, said: "We are delighted to be recognised by professionals in the industry itself - the readers of Banking Technology - as providing the best corporate actions solution. We have a history of continuous investment in technology innovation and a strong product roadmap that ensures our clients are getting the best corporate actions service available. This is our promise to them. And this award plus our strong client following are testament to that. Thank you to those who voted for us."
